

Janice Inez Covolo

January 25, 1939 - December 3, 2023

It is with a heavy heart we announce the peaceful passing of Janice Inez Covolo, age 84 years young on December 3rd, 2023. Originally born in Hilo, Hawaii on January 25, 1939, she grew up on the island of Oahu. A few of the things she loved were family gatherings, swimming at Kuhio beach and island food. Moving to the “mainland” in her 20s, she took on the adventures of camping, road traveling, raising a family, doting on her grand-daughter Alessandra and fully investing herself in the community of Menlo Park. Janice retired from the Palo Alto Weekly and shared her smile, laughter, and sense of humor with all who were fortunate enough to connect with her. She and her younger sister Angela shared a love of RVing and a mutual devotion to the Catholic Church and volunteered at every available opportunity.

Janice is preceded in death by her beloved husband of 21 years, Edward Covolo. She leaves behind two sons: Edward Covolo and Christopher Covolo (married to Sandra Covolo). She also cherished swimming in the pool with her granddaughter, Alessandra, which brought her immense joy.

In lieu of flowers, donations are appreciated to Eternal Word Television Network/EWTN at the link below.

“My sincere condolences to Janice’s family. She was wonderful to be around when she (and I) worked at the Weekly. I’ll always remember our laughs and her talking about her sons (“My pride and joy,” she would say). She was kind to me, particularly making sure I received a large container of Mexican chicken soup made by her friend, which Janice made sure was delivered to me when I was sick with bronchitis.
